Whom It May Concern:

It is with great honor that I write this letter to acknowledge the achievement of Colin Poirier on behalf of The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS). Colin has come to be a relentless champion of LLS's mission: to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkins' disease, and myeloma while improving the quality of life for our patients and their families.

The Student Visionaries of the Year campaign is an exciting leadership development and philanthropy program in which high school students participate in a fundraising competition to benefit LLS. Colin was selected as a team member from the New York City area to represent The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society and spread the message of our mission.

These high school students have decided to become trailblazers. Collectively, they raised a total of $1,335,905 in 7 short weeks. Colin was an integral part of achieving this goal. During the campaign, he made it his mission to enact change in the community and stand up as a student leader. He advocated for the rights of the blood cancer patients of the New York City area and spread awareness of the cutting-edge research being done by LLS. He learned firsthand how to market a campaign, demonstrated exemplary time management and leadership skills, while also mastering professional skills such as entrepreneurship, financial literacy, communications, and networking.

I have been most impressed by Colin's dedication to improving the lives of others and his steadfast work ethic in achieving goals. There is no doubt in my mind that Colin will continue to create a positive impact on his community in the future.
